

THE WREN'S NEST

Press Release

Wren's Nest Fest-- The Wren's Nest House Museum's Largest Community Event!

ATLANTA – April 2, 2009 – The Wren's Nest house museum is happy to announce that Wren's Nest Fest 2009 is on its way! Scheduled for Friday, June 5th from 10am – 4pm, Wren's Nest Fest is the organization's largest and longest-running community event.

The festival, which is aimed towards children and families, will provide a wide range of activities for children of all ages, including storytelling from The Wren's Nest's Ramblers throughout the day.

Entrance fees for the event will be at a reduced rate, to ensure that cost is not prohibitive for those interested in attending and to encourage all to join. Additionally, amidst a moonbounce, face painting, cookie decorating, petting zoo, and other enticing amusements, The Wren's Nest will provide lunch for attendees from noon until 1:30pm.

Last year, Wren's Nest Fest had over 500 attendees, comprised of camp groups, community children groups, and individual families. We hope to leave that number in the dust in 2009.

All events will take place in The Wren's Nest beautiful 2.25-acre amphitheatre. Young children are encouraged to use the built-in stage to sing garbled lyrics to their favorite ditties.

See you there!

About the Wren's Nest

The Wren's Nest is Atlanta's oldest house museum and the home of Joel Chandler Harris, author of the Brer Rabbit and Uncle Remus tales. Since its opening as a museum in 1913, the Wren's Nest has become a cultural institution in Atlanta and greeted visitors from around the globe.

Located in historic West End, the Wren's Nest is open to the public Tues through Sat, 10 am – 2:30 pm. Storytellers work their magic on Saturdays at 1pm, or by appointment. Tours are given on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Please go to www.wrensnestonline.com for more details and general fun, or contact amelia@wrensnestonline.com with specific queries.

